Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 14-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 5,099,306 (hereafter Dunaway).

Dunaway discloses, referring to figure 10, an encapsulated circuit comprising a substrate (86) having two faces and perimeter sides around the faces, a circuit formed on the substrate, conductive pads (100, 102) formed on a portion of one of the faces near one of the sides and connected to the circuit, and an integrally formed encapsulating (112, 113) mass which encapsulates all of the one face except in the region of the pads, all of the other face except in a region opposite to the region of the pads, and all of the sides [claim 14], wherein the circuit includes electronic components mounted on both faces of the substrate and encapsulated in the encapsulating mass [claim 15], wherein the conductive pads are formed on portions of the one face near the sides and the encapsulating mass encapsulates all of the one face except in the regions of the pads [claim 16], wherein the conductive pads are formed on a portion of the other face near one of the sides and the encapsulating mass encapsulated all of the other face except the region of the pads [claim 17], wherein the conductive pads are formed on portions of the other face near the sides and the encapsulating mass encapsulated all of the other face except the regions of the pads [claim 18]
